Travel and arriving

Might be arriving late, shops closed

- ☐ Sodas and Beer
- ☐ Initial food, some bread and cheese
- ☐ Coffee
- ☐ Snacks

Camp and work space Infrastructure

Having a nice place to work is the goal. Make it fun to sit there. Hack tent/pavillion, I use Coleman Event Shelter with UV protection!

Also these things are used by more people in the village. Also ordered tables from BornHack and some more chairs.

Living

- ☐ Coleman event shelter large
- ☐ Camping table
- ☐ Camping chairs

☐ Cutting boards
☐ Containers for food - misc sizes
☐ Large box with kitchen stuff and aeropress

Technical Camp Infrastructure

Power

If the camp provides power – you need more than you think:

☐ Power boxes outdoor waterproof
☐ Long extension cords 25m and rolls, multiple ☐ Power cables as needed for disibution "inside" power strips with 3-5m and 10 plugs work great

Infrastructure

☐ Light and lamps
☐ Fun LED lighting, everybody loves blinkenlights
☐ Additional extensions for blinkenlights
☐ Whiteboard and pens

Solar and DC Networking

☐ Battery and solar panel, I use Ecoflow which is easy
☐ DC Power cables as needed – y splitter
☐ Powerbanks and cables

Tools and misc

☐ Toolboxes contain generic tools, pliers, Ethernet crimping, label writer etc.
☐ Svensk nøgle
☐ Reusable Strips
☐ Samsung printer
☐ Xerox printer plus nevertear
☐ A4 printer paper
☐ Gaffa tape
☐ Fire equipment can
☐ Electric Pump

Network equipment

Many hacker camps provide Internet connections, wired! You can often get better connectivity than a wireless network across a field, so bring:

☐ A few Long network cables 30-50m to connect to camp network
☐ A few Long network cables 10m
☐ Misc extensions and patch cables 10-15 pieces, or how many you are
☐ The internet box with EX2200C, EX3300 and some SRX
☐ Table switches, smaller passively cooled ones!
☐ PoE switches and PoE PD switches
☐ Router/firewall I use a small PC Engines APU2 and Shuttle
☐ Armored fiber cables

Tent and Sleeping

Each person need a place to sleep. In bigger villages we put them around the common tent.

- ☐ Sleeping tent
- ☐ Tarps are great for both sunny day, shade and heavy rain
- ☐ Long extension cord and power strips for your tent
- ☐ Mattress, don't buy the cheap crappy ones, proper camping self-inflating mats work for me over +5 years
- ☐ Bed sheet
- ☐ Sleeping bag
- ☐ Quilts/duvet
- ☐ Pillow – Pillow – Pillow – Pillow – Pillow
